(Mary)

To [redacted] a real sweet girl who will always be a very good friend of mine. Always remember the good times at the Prom we had.
I wish you the best of Luck with Steve. I hope you and Steve have many happy days together.
Don't forget all the times we went to McDonalds together before work.
Don't forget Mrs Conners class and English. Stay out of trouble and have fun at the same time. Be good at everything you do. Wish you the Best of everything. Have a good summer.
I hope we don't end up dissing clothes.
Come to see me when ever we get moved in bring Steve to. Don't forget to call. See you tonight, I can't wait.

Your Friend
Love always,
Barbara

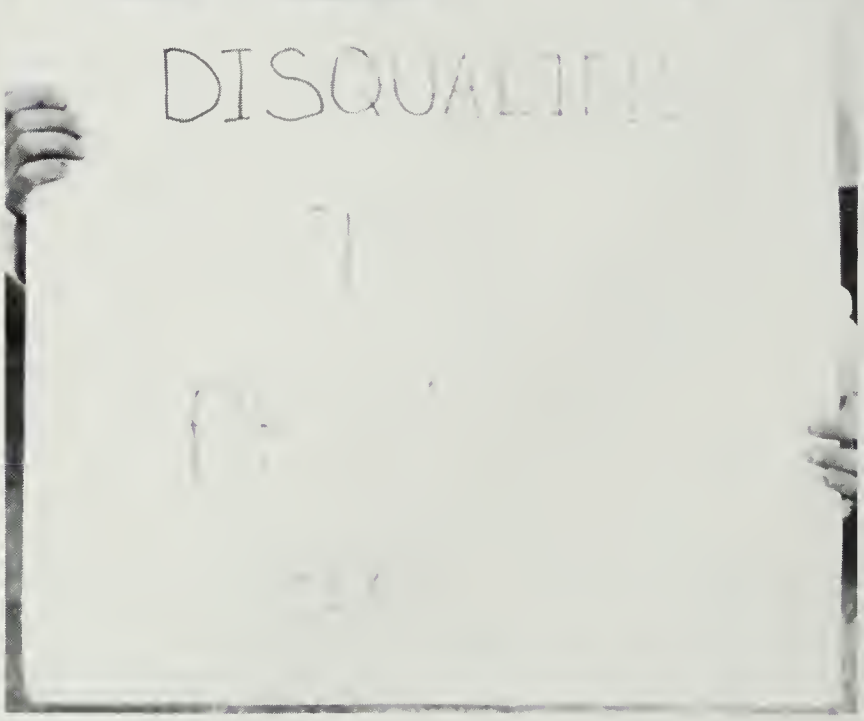
The Best of Times

Dukes Let Their



Hair Down

Time . . .

Life at GHS runs like the hands of a clock. There is a time for everything. There is a time for us to learn and also a time for us to have fun. From lunch to English class or from a football game to a party, there are times to do different things. There are times to be serious, to be a little crazy, to be sad, and to be happy. These years are special to us and we want them to be the "best of times" here at Gloucester High.

Holly Arnold, Stephanie Rouse, and Steve Bland wait for the Homecoming pep rally to begin.

Miss Dennis and Bob Harris help with Homecoming preparations.

Patty Jenkins rides in the parade.

Flows Like a River

Wendy Paige and Althea Burrel enjoy free time at lunch.

The senior class wins the Homecoming pep rally.

Homecoming . . . Just a Game?

The spirit . . . the excitement . . . the victory Homecoming is much more than just another football game. Homecoming is seeing old friends, marching in a parade, being in the Homecoming court, working our hearts out on a float, being able to act slightly crazy during Spirit week, yelling until we have sore throats at the pep rally, having extra long practices, but most of all, sharing the happiness together.

The Dukes are face to face with the Bruton Panthers.

John Walters and Coach Johnston observe from the sidelines.

Ed Chapman and Melanie Brown are chosen as Art Club, King and Queen, and ride in a truck decorated for the occasion.

Sometimes you feel like a nut . . .

The life of a freshman is not contained to home and school, although it may often seem that way. Between homework and the many things parents have us do, there are other activities. In the fall, the Friday football game (and the J.V. game on Wednesday) provide a great place to show spirit and get together with friends.

Besides lunch, the time between when people get to school and when the bell rings for first period is the main social hour. Many people finish their homework, but most people just sit around and talk (or pose for pictures).

Ask any freshman: lunch is the best class! After the first day of finding who is in the same lunch is one familiar thing in the new school.

Anne Lynch looks warily at the camera, but no one else seems to mind.

Senior, Trey Young, senses that even though he is with Sidra Mahler, he is not welcome on the Freshman stands.

A common scene: doing homework before school in the Commons. Will it ever be finished?

Even if the table is a little slanted, the humor isn't.

Let's Focus on "Class"

Missing Senior . . .

Jean Rowe is completing her Senior year while attending Virginia Commonwealth University as a full time Theatre major. She plans to graduate with her senior class here at GHS.

Dukes Place Second

All-District John Walters surges ahead for more yardage.

The Gloucester High football team posted a stellar 7-3 record this year. The only losses were to a pair of losses to AA State Champion Tabb Tigers and a one point loss to Bruton. The Dukes avenged the loss to Bruton by defeating them 14-6 in the Homecoming game. Another bright spot was a 22-16 victory over county rival Mathews.

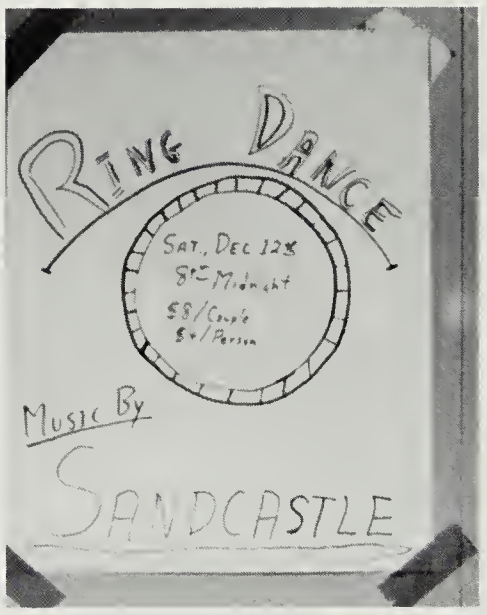
This year's Ring Dance, held on December 12, 1981, proved to be a night to remember. One thing that made it special was, of course, the distributing of Class Rings. The band, Sandcastle, also helped to make the dance a success. And last, but not least, the bringing together of the Junior Class added to the positive atmosphere on that night.



This poster says it all.

The Junior Class owes special thanks to Mr. Zuger for all his work

Adrin McFerrin places his ring order and is shocked by the price.

Some students just sat back and laughed at the excitement.

The sizing of the ring is very important in your selection.

Does it really take six girls to decide on a ring?

Two students, disguised as Mr. Haugen and Mr. Hirschberg, tried to sneak into the Ring Dance but were caught.

Tom Schuster and Lisa Williams take time to celebrate.

Some people danced the night away . . .

. . . while Kim Harris and Mark Keiffer were amazed at how some people danced the night away.

Trey Young and date take time to smile for the camera.

Margie White and Jeff Margason had the time of their lives.

Four Drama students starred in the fine Fall production of "The Glass Menagerie" by Tennessee Williams. Those members of the cast were Chris Anderson, Gary Cutter, Charlotte Kemp, and Kelly Nichols. The play proved to be popular with the students, faculty, and general audience.

Lola Schaffer couldn't decide if it was her looks or talent that won her the Mr. GHS pageant.

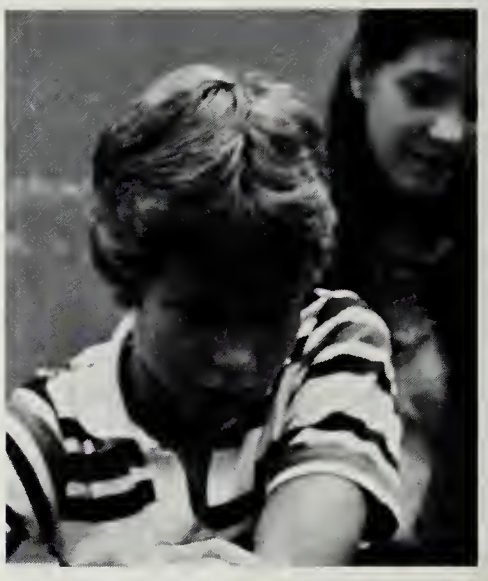
Flip Honnaker shows the stronger side of womanhood.

and the winner was . . . Miss Lola Schaffer.

The Junior class invited the Pointer Sisters to perform at the Mr. GHS pageant.

Students Being Students

Mary Beth Luckam thinks the knack of balancing an egg is not letting go!



Mike Silverhorn shows that the Equinox is a serious occasion.

At the beginning of this year, several G.H.S. science students participated in some "eggs"ercises. On the day of Equinox, which begins at 11:05 A.M. on September 22, you can balance an egg on its end for hours at a time. This phenomenom is explained by the fact that on the first day of fall, night and day are of equal lengths, and gravity pulls on all sides of the egg.

Mrs. Harrison proves one of science's many wonders.

Craig Gwyn thinks the Equinox is greasy kid's stuff.

Steve Bland and Stephanie Rouse think that this occasion calls for a cheer.

Sometimes you feel like a nut, sometimes you don't. (Bill Schackleford and Gary Springle.)

Gary McFerrin says, "Put on a happy face."

Too much time on my hands is David Panchison's thought.

Catch that whole milk spirit, Margie.

Racheal Stuart finds that meditation is best at a G.H.S. football game.

Cosmetology

Cosmetology was designed to acquaint all career minded individuals with opportunities to prepare them for initial employment or allied occupation. Based upon clearly defined objections, it was divided into two units of theoretical and practical experiences. The skills, proficiencies, and related technical information taught were those necessary for successful entry into the field.

Prerequisites might have included English, Math, Biology, Business, Bookkeeping, psychology, and some knowledge of salesmanship.

Personal characteristics: Manual dexterity, interest in beauty, the ability to maintain friendly relationships with people, a sense of artistry, willingness to follow instructions, a sense of responsibility, and the physical stamina required to spend a great deal of time standing. Personal grooming and neatness is a must.

Cavalier Staff

Despite ruined club pictures, leaky roofs, delayed picture deliveries, and other problems, the year has been a successful one for the '82 Cavalier staff. Staff members began early this summer by attending a summer seminar in Richmond. The theme of "Time" was chosen early in the year. The Editor of the Cavalier was Lisa Oliver and the Co-Editor was Beth Knight. The staff was advised by Mrs. Hugate. This year the yearbook class was composed of students who had previously had Journalism I. This gave the staff a definite advantage because all members had some experience. Overall, a lot of hard work was put into the Cavalier.

Roof leakage in the yearbook room was only one of the many problems which delayed work.

The Literary Art Magazine

As with any literary publication, much effort and support is required to make it a success. The GHS literary art magazine, usually known as "VISION", has been a successful publication despite lack of both effort and support. This year much of the work was done by several individuals. Mr. Bergh's classes helped with drawing the illustration. Much of the work fell into the hands of Mr. Haugen himself. The magazine is not in the school's list of top priorities yet, but despite oppositions, it will survive. Hopefully, the publication of "VISION" will go on to become a traditional and appreciated aspect in the future of GHS.

Heywood . . . State V.P.!

Mitchell Heywood is the first state officer ever to be elected in the 54 year history of the Gloucester FFA chapter. During his year as a state officer, he has traveled over 10,000 miles representing the Virginia Association. After being elected, Mitchell attended two weeks of leadership training. They were at the state leadership conference in Alexandria, where there were state officer teams from 7 other East Coast States. Mitchell attended the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Missouri, and served in an official capacity as a delegate of the VA Association and as an usher. Mitchell visited all of the 40 chapters in the Eastern area. He has spoken at 15 chapter banquets, several special events, met with Governor Robb on several occasions and with the Commissioner of Agriculture, Mr. Carbough. Mitchell and his 9 fellow officers met in December at the State capitol to begin planning the entire state FFA Convention to be held in June at VA Tech. The convention will feature Judging contest, presentation of awards, reports, special guest, slide presentations, and the election and installation of the 1982-83 state FFA officer team. Mitchell plans to continue his participation in the FFA and hopes to run for a national office.

The French Club was a new organization this year, with big plans for the future. The club had many plans in the works; they considered sponsoring a child in a French-speaking country, sending a senior to France, and exchanging students with a French family in the summer. The club ordered an award winning French film Le Voyage Merveilleux. (The Marvelous Journey) with English subtitles. They held a bike rally in March with a picnic at the end.

One of the French Club's main preoccupations is food. The French dinner at club president's Susan Spencer's house was a tremendous success.

Doughnuts and hot cider were a main attraction after singing French Christmas carols at the courthouse in December. In February, 14 French club members paid eight dollars to eat a real French meal at Le Ya Ca in King's Mill. The French Club has already proved to be active and fun in its first year and it is bound to grow.

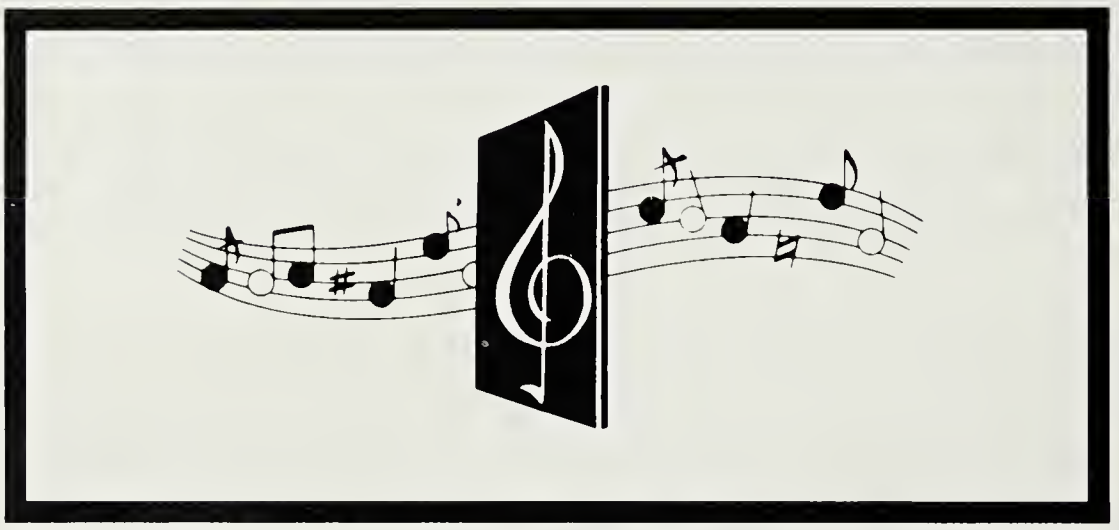
D'Otis Singers

The talented D'Otis Singers are a carefully selected group that performs at many different benefits throughout the county. The group consists of juniors and seniors that have some musical background and exceptional voices. The group is chosen by Mr. Sandridge according to the type of voice and how well a particular voice blends with others in the group. This year the type of music was centered around Jazz, Pop, and Religious.

Brian Sharp thinks that there is enough of him to share.



Tommy Hunter and Cindy Smith practice at the piano.

Mike Larkin finds D'Otis class so relaxing that he sometimes gets carried away . . . to dreamland.

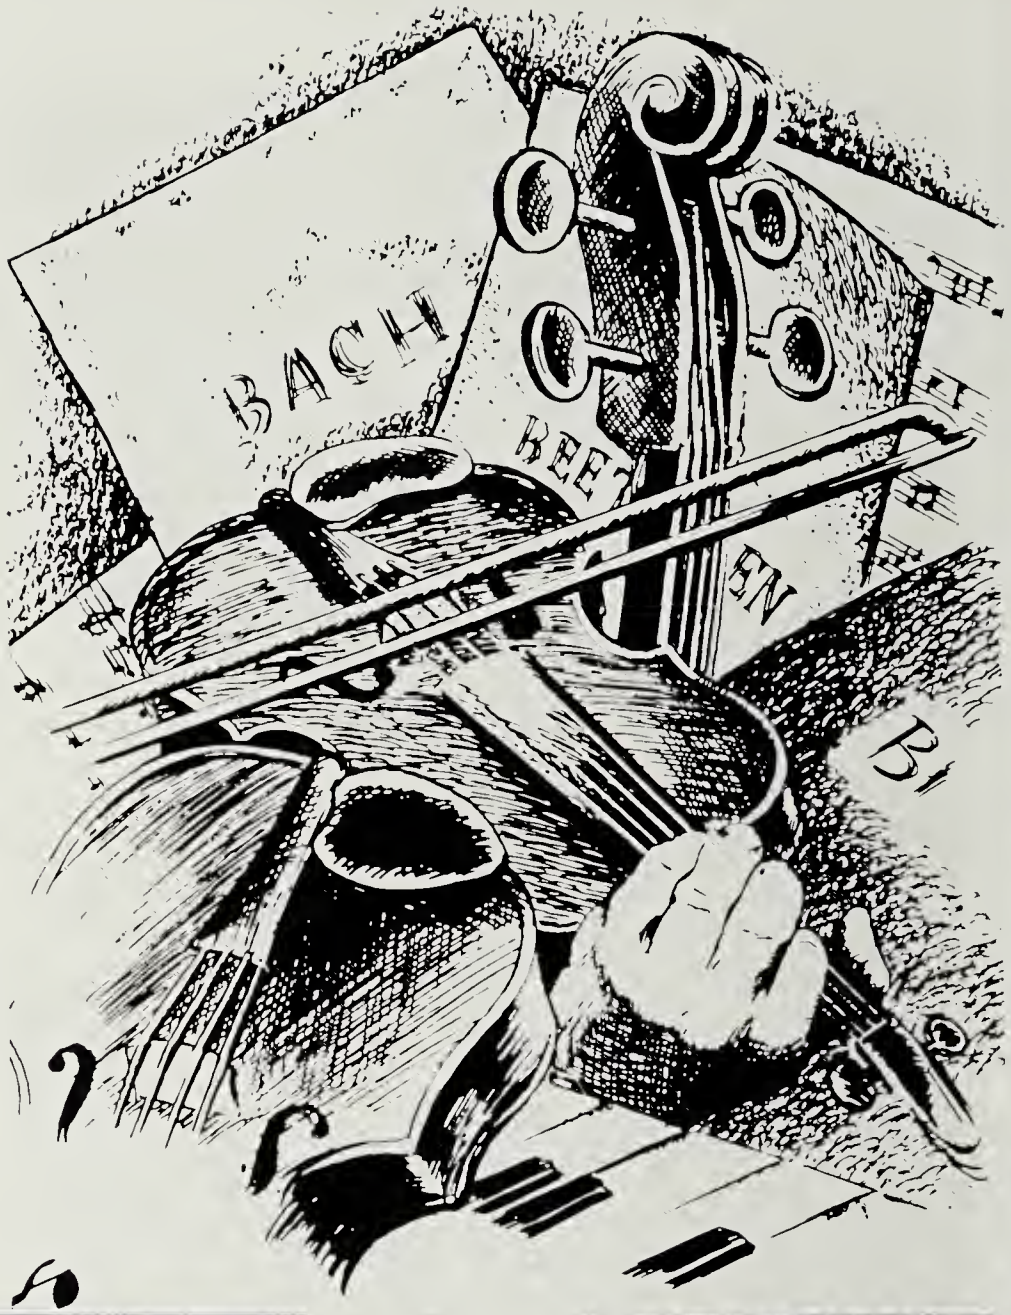
Bob Harris gets a big hug from Kathy Nuttal.

D'Otis class is always an active place to be.

Band

The GHS band was very successful this year. They performed at many events in the area. They performed at all home football and basketball games.Three students were accepted into the Regional band and, for the third year, all students who auditioned for the area band were accepted. Several students were also selected for Who's Who in Music. After being accepted by the United States Collegiate Wind Band, two students will tour Europe this summer. The band participated in the Yorktown Bicentennial parade and ceremonies, the Greater Guinea Jubilee parade, and the Old Dominion Marching Band competition. The band was led by Mr. Lloyd who was very proud of this year's success. The GHS band was a very important part of this year and earned much recognition for our school.



Members of the band perform at a pep rally. They help to keep up the spirit.

A Rifle Team member, Sandy Shackelford, performs while the band plays on in the distance.

Rosemary Evans stands in front of a Freedom Jam poster. The Freedom Jam concert was a memorable musical event.

Band members play at a basketball game, but where is the drummer?

COMMUNITY

October 16-October 19

1781-1981

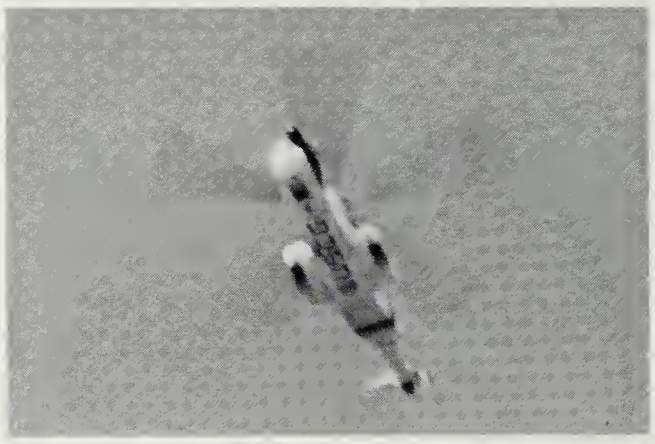
Below: A protest against Secretary of the Interior James Watt.

Center: A seagull settles to watch the celebration.

Bottom: The Gloucester High jazz band performs at the Gloucester Point festivities.

Right: A Colonial marine demonstrates how a musket is fired — and misfired.

Below: A Coast Guard helicopter hovers, drawing eyes upward.



A Celebration of Time

200 years. It is not a long time in Egypt with its three thousand year old pyramids, or Europe where five hundred year old castles dot the landscape, but these 200 years have been filled with more change than any other period in history. And in this Bicentennial we celebrate not only a battle victory, but the changes time has wrought, and will bring.

Eating seafood under the bridge, you can listen to the jazz band or sing along as War Prayer plays "Free Bird." Soldiers recreating the Battle of Yorktown complain that the modern military is stealing the show. Students complain about papers due Tuesday when they get back.

This is to be expected. We celebrate the past, but in this young country, the present and the future are all.

Right: An exhibit in the school tent.
Below: The rigging of the Maryland Dove.

Sailing ships maneuver for mock battle.

The Maryland Dove sets sail from its pier near the York River Bridge.
Colonial sailors from Massachusetts march to the beat of a different drummer.

Being . . .

Everyday we pass each other in the halls, learn together in the classrooms, we share our experiences and opinions with each other, but most of all we live and grow together. We are all only human and we do our best to get along in the world. Decisions have to be made everyday and we all want to make the right ones. Inside of each of us there is a very special person and we each want a chance to be . . .

'Bout Time It Snowed

It started, fast and furious, on Thursday, January 14. Students left early. By the time snow stopped falling at 10 p.m. that night, two to four inches had fallen. School was cancelled Friday the 15th through Thursday the 21st. Friday the 22nd school was again called off. Fresh snow fall interrupted exams. Tuesday was a free day too. And everyone used the time to study, right?

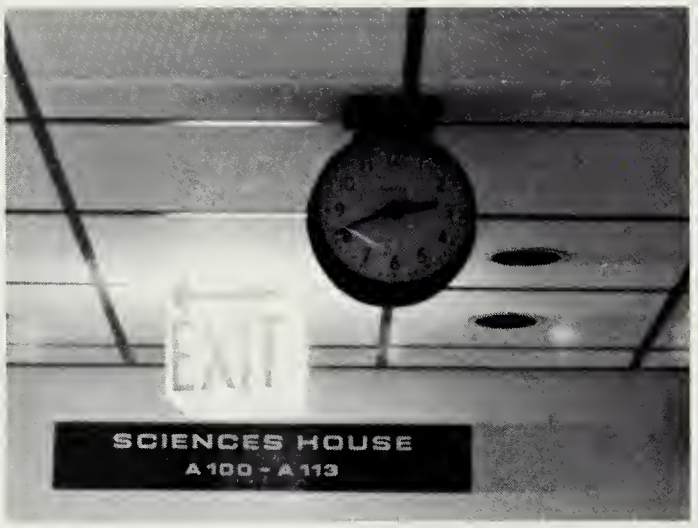
Time



The theme for our yearbook this year is Time. Although it seems very simple, it is actually very complex because we are all affected by the grasp of Time. I sincerely hope that this book will grow more precious to each of you as the years go. It is through our memories alone that we can overcome Time.

The experience of being editor of the '82 Cavalier was a challenging one. I am glad that the year has been completed with a relative amount of success. Despite several setbacks, a cooperative staff and an understanding advisor made them seem smaller. Special thanks to Mrs. Hugate, who has been a friend as well as an advisor, and to Beth Knight, Co-Editor, and most of all to my loyal staff. Also, I would like to thank Mr. Danny Defalco, our Taylor representative for his help and cooperation.

My last piece of business is the dedication of this book. After much careful thought, I dedicate the '82 Calavlier with much sincerity to the faculty and staff at Gloucester High School and I would like to thank them for their cooperation and also for four good years here at GHS.

Mary,

This final year passed so fast that we didn't get to do all that we should have. We had a good time in Mrs. Conners Class and going to work (eating at McDonald's). I will never forget working at Sherwood with you, it was quite an experience. I
